PRESS RELEASE

On July 26th at about 3:10 AM Ukiah Police responded to a residence in the 500 block of Baywood Court for a woman heard screaming for help. Arriving officers heard a woman in distress and yelling "STOP", and immediately entered the residence. The officers announced their presence and yelled for the occupants to show themselves, and they were soon met by 32 year old Jedi Wolfe-Hunnicutt. Officers noticed blood on Hunnicutt, and he appeared disoriented and displayed slight difficulty in following the officers' command. Hunnicutt was placed into handcuffs for safety, and officers then located a 29 year old woman in the residence who immediately requested a protective order.

After interviewing both subjects and examining the scene, officers determined the two had been drinking earlier that evening. During a subsequent argument, Hunnicutt apparently grabbed and held the victim by her throat, eventually restricting her breathing. The victim was able to finally get Hunnicutt to release her, and both sustained visible injuries during the scuffle. As the aggressor Hunnicutt was arrested for domestic violence, and he was on probation for sales of marijuana and was charged with violating that probation. A protective order was obtained prohibiting Hunnicutt from contacting the victim. 13-1928
