Highlights for the Week

On November 13th at about 11:55 AM a Ukiah Police Officer attempted to stop a bicyclist in the 200 block of East Gobbi Street. The bicyclist refused to yield to the officer's lights and siren, and fled west on Gobbi Street. The bicyclist turned onto Porzio Lane then into a breezeway between two buildings where the officer continued to pursue on foot. The bicyclist returned to Gobbi Street and fled east, and was captured trying to hide in some bushes in a parking lot in the 200 block of East Gobbi Street. The bicyclist, 23 year old Daniel Taylor, was arrested for resisting arrest. Taylor was on Post Community Release Supervision for assault with a dangerous weapon, and on three separate probations, and was charged with violating both programs. 14-3420

Officers learned the suspect had performed a fraudulent return, and when employees tried to stop the suspect from leaving, he pushed an employee and was seen leaving in a vehicle. The store employees provided a description of the suspect and vehicle and but were only able to provide a partial license plate number. On November 15th at about 4:30 PM the investigating officer noticed a vehicle matching the description in the 300 block of Luce Street, and that the driver also resembled the reported suspect description. The officer stopped the vehicle, and identified the driver as 29 year old Philip Joseph Cosenza. The officer determined Cosenza was the suspect and arrested him for burglary and for robbery. 14-3421

On November 13th at about 10:35 PM Ukiah Police Officers were conducting a traffic stop in the 1000 block of South State Street. A subject approached the officers and demanded to know why the officers were looking at the subject's vehicle, which was apparently parked nearby. The subject, later identified as 20 year old Jose Beltran Carrasco, was told by the officers that their investigation had nothing to do with his vehicle. Carrasco became agitated and tried several times to walk between the officers, insisted the officers were looking at his car and demanded to know why, and refused instructions to stop interfering with the officers. Carrasco continued his behavior and was finally arrested for interfering with a police investigation. Carrasco later tried to discard an item found to be less than a gram of heroin, and he was also charged with possessing a narcotic drug. 14-3427
